VIEWERS BEGIN CONSIDERATION OF EVIDENCE IN CONDEMNATION

The board of view named by the Adams County Court to set the amount the Gettysburg joint school board will have to pay for the 17½ acres of land it took from the Colt Park Development Co. this afternoon began consideration of its decision after three days of hearings in which estimates of the value of the land taken, as given by witnesses, varied from "nothing at all" to $97,832.

Shortly before noon today, at the close of the taking of testimony at the Court House, the board of viewers heard both sides claim that the value suggested by the other was "ridiculous."

Attorney Daniel E. Tetter, summing up for the owners of the land said the school board's offer of $12,500 for the 17½ acres came to $255 a front foot for the property. That price, in an area where all sales so far have been for $15 a front foot in lot parcels, or higher, "is inadequate," Tetter said. "The constitution requires that when land is taken the owners should receive a fair recompense. It is not fair that one set of men should bear a disproportionate share of the cost of the building of a school by seven municipalities. On that basis of $255 a front foot, the school board offer would be equal to paying $125 per 50 foot lot. There is no evidence that any land anywhere for building lots is being sold at anything as low as $225 a front foot, or anywhere near there."

Called "Vacant Field" Tetter had claimed in his closing remarks that John H. Basehore and John C. Bream had set a $20,000 figure when they assessed the land after the death of William H. Johns, "and they could not go back on their original assessment now." He had also suggested that the Johns heirs did not know the value of the land when it was sold for $25,000.

Attorney Richard A. Brown, summing up for the school board defended Basehore, Bream and LeRoy Winebrenner who had given approximately $20,000 estimates on the value of the property. "These men made their appraisals under oath. They were appraising the land as it was, a vacant field, not giving it some ridiculous value as the present owners have."

William Musser, one of the co-owners of the Colt Park Development Co., said he estimated the

SHORB IS HELD AFTER HEARING

William A. Shorb Jr., 25, of Emmitsburg R. 2, arrested by borough police early Sunday morning on a charge of breaking into the "used car lot" office of Carroll Zentz, Carlisle St., and with stealing an automobile from the lot, was held for the Adams County Court by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder following a hearing Monday night, on burglary and larceny charges.

Shorb was arrested on top of a coal pile at the Ice and Storage plant following a chase by police, who found him sitting in the stolen car at the rear of the Winebrenner apartments garage.

Police were investigating the report that a car had been stolen at the parking lot, and another report that there were trespassers in one of the garages when they found Shorb, they said.

Checking the garages, they found Helen Carey, 26, Gettysburg R. 1, and Richard Kelly, 20, Pittsburgh, listed as a Mount St. Mary's student, in one of the garages, they said.

They were charged Monday night before Justice Snyder with disorderly conduct and released on payment of fines of $5 and costs each. Shorb was remanded to jail.

Truck And Car In Bonneauville Crash

An automobile operated by Donald G. Rudisill, 23, of Gettysburg R. 5, collided with a truck driven by John E. Sponseller Jr., 35, of York, in Bonneauville Monday morning, state police of the Gettysburg substation reported today.

Police said Rudisill, a soldier, was traveling east, lost control on a curve and struck the truck. No one was injured. Damage to the car was estimated at $500, and to the truck at $100.

Commissioners At Harrisburg Monday

The Adams County Commissioners, Clark L. Fetters, Karl J. Smith and G. Ed Taughinbaugh, and their clerk, Clarence C. Smith, spent Monday in Harrisburg where they conferred with state officials on proposals to place the employees of Adams County under social security.

Official action in the proposal will take place at Wednesday's regular meeting, but the commissioners said that they had all details available, following Monday's session at Harrisburg, of the requirements needed to provide Social Security for the county workers. Just how soon the plan can be worked out for the county workers will be decided Wednesday.

ADVISORY GROUP FOR REC. BOARD WILL BE SOUGHT

The Board of Directors of the Gettysburg Recreation Association, meeting Monday night in council chambers at the fire engine house, took steps for the formation of an advisory committee to help the board plan recreation activities.

The board adopted a motion that a committee be named to send letters to service clubs, lodges and other Gettysburg organizations, requesting them to cooperate by designating members of this advisory committee. The groups will include the Ministerium.

President William E. Knox named on this committee Mahlon P. Hartzell, Robert Deardorff, Adam Myers and himself.

Kerr Begins Tomorrow "We hope these organizations will cooperate with us by naming members interested and active in recreation," Mr. Knox said. "Through such an advisory group we can better determine what the community wants in the way of recreation programs and activities."

Ira Kerr, new recreation director, who announced that he will take over this full-time position beginning Wednesday, reported on Little League baseball.

Such a league is being formed in

FARMERS' GROUP STARTS DRIVE ON MEMBERSHIP

The Adams County Farmers Association today began its annual membership drive following a dinner session for 35 leaders Monday evening in Fidler's restaurant in Biglerville.

"Impress on those you see that we need numbers, finances and a tremendous amount of hard work if we are going to make the desires of farmers come true," C. M. Wilson, secretary of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association told the group.

"You, and the majority of the 1,500,000 farmers in the nation who are members of the National Farm Bureau Federation, of which the Adams County Farmers and the Pennsylvania Farmers Association are a part, have expressed yourselves as recommending that the nation have a balanced budget. Remember that a recommendation on paper means nothing. There has to be a tremendous amount of work performed to make a recommendation into a reality. If we really mean we want a balanced national budget we have to work, first to put the house of agriculture in order and second to bring pressure to bear to see that similar economics are carried out in other departments of government. You cannot part a great many people from their jobs and appropriations without running into an awful lot of pressure and stepping on a great many toes."

"There will be Puerto Ricans available for farm labor this year for those who want them. This year the camp will be located in Pennsylvania, probably in Lancaster County. The Farm Bureau (Please Turn to Page 3)

BIG INAUGURAL COST JUSTIFIED SAYS DR. SMOKE

The inauguration programs for the incoming presidents of the United States use "money will be spent," Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke, head of the psychology department at Gettysburg College, told the local Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

"It is important that we have ceremonies marking the inauguration of a new president because the inauguration is a symbol of the basic unity of our nation; because we humans have a psychological need for a sense of beginning again and because it reminds us that the ultimate trust of the nation is in God."

"There are those who criticize the expense of the inauguration, which will cost us about $750,000. But it provides us as a nation with a very worth while psychological lift. I know of no other way in which the spending of the same amount of money would provide so much of a sense of unity for the nation. The inauguration is an opportunity to heal the wounds of the preceding campaign. It gives us all a sense of sharing in something big and each individual American can get a sense of sharing in the government no matter whether he cast his ballot for the victor or the vanquished. It provides an opportunity for crossing barriers of party."

Religious Emphasis "And mankind has a great need for that sense of beginning again which the inauguration ceremonies symbolize. From our human viewpoint all nature has a cyclical aspect, the planting of the seeds in the spring, the growth of the summer and the harvest of the fall. The Lord created the world 'and

GHS Students See Inauguration On TV

Thanks to the Gettysburg Parent Teachers Association, students at the Gettysburg High School were able to watch the inauguration ceremony and parade today on a big 24-inch screen set installed Monday afternoon on the stage in the auditorium at the school.

The set was furnished without cost to the PTA or the school by the Gettysburg Tire Recapping Service and the managers of that establishment, John Fitz and John Hull, also provided the aerial and the leads without any charge. The installation and antenna tower were placed by Elwood Felix, Gettysburg R. 1, and he made no charge for his services. Arrangements for the TV broadcast at the school were made by PTA President John C. Stahle.

Lack of auditoriums at the three, grade school buildings here blocked earlier plans to install TV sets there also.

Upper Adams school pupils at Biglerville, Arendtsville and Bendersville also saw the inauguration on TV sets installed by local dealers by arrangement with school authorities.

7 MEMBERS OF COUNCIL NAMED BY LUTHERANS

Inaugural Message Lauded By Leaders Of Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's first message to the nation as its new President was praised by both Republicans and Democrats today, with the reservation by a few that it was not specific.

The new chief executive's prepared inaugural address was lauded by members of Congress in such terms as these: "Dignified . . . magnificent . . . inspiring . . . courageous . . . thoughtful and correct."

Several Democrats saw in the speech, which dealt almost entirely with foreign policy, little more than a restatement of the principles which they said have guided the outgoing Truman administration.

"Clear And Courageous" For example, Rep. Richards (D—SC), top Democrat on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, called the address "a clear and courageous exposition of what our foreign policy should be and what it has been during the past administration."

And Rep. Walter (D—Pa.) commented: "It's very encouraging to

LIONS GIVE $550 FOR NEW BAND UNIFORMS AND LEGS FOR BOY

Gettysburg Lions at their weekly meeting Monday evening at the Shetter House voted $300 for the new uniform band fund at the high school and gave $250 toward new legs for Larry Kepner. The latter donation was given to the Adams County Crippled Children's Society which is gathering funds to finance the cost of new artificial legs now being received by Larry from specialists at the Kessler Institute in New Jersey.

The donation to the $5,000 campaign for new high school band uniforms goes to the Band Boosters' Association and was voted on recommendation of the Lions' Finance Committee. Both gifts come from the club's Charity Fund.

The donation for the Larry Kepner fund came after a recommendation from the board of directors of the club and after Dr. Clarence Bartholomew, president of the Crippled Children's Society, had told of the progress being made by the Kepner boy. The new legs are to replace "stubbies" he has used for more than a year. They were secured with the help of the Crippled Children's Society.

U. S. Biggest Spender Guest speaker for the Lions was Edward Hardcastle, Hagerstown, district manager for the National Federation of Independent Business.

COUPLE WEDS HERE

Robert G. Couttes and Delores M. Madallis, who gave their address as Shamokin, Pa., were married Saturday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in his office in the Kadel Building.

IMPROVEMENTS AT JAIL, HOME URGED BY JURY

The January Grand Jury Monday evening, following the regular tour of the county properties, recommended that the commissioners study "alms house buildings in other counties" in order to plan "improvement of our equipment and facilities" at the local county home.

One prospective viewer however missed at least the inauguration ceremony. At 11:05 a.m. three workmen were atop a building in the first block of Baltimore St. working at top speed to get an aerial in operation in time for the inauguration but missed by a few minutes.

GETS TWO DAYS C. L. Smith, Haymore, Va., arrested Sunday by borough police on a disorderly conduct charge, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Monday night, fined $5 and costs, committed to jail for two days in default of the fine, and then released. He had served the two days.

Dwight David Eisenhower Takes Oath Of Office As 34th President Of U.S. Before Huge Throng At Noon Today

WASHINGTON, JAN. 20 (AP)—The prepared text of the inaugural address of President Dwight D. Eisenhower follows in full: My Fellow Citizens:

The world and we have passed the midway point of a century of continuing challenge. We sense with all our faculties that forces of good and evil are massed and armed and opposed as rarely before in history.

This fact defines the meaning of this day. We are summoned, by this honored and historic ceremony, to witness more than the act of one citizen swearing his oath of service, in the presence of his God. We are called, as a people, to give testimony, in the sight of the world, to our faith that the future shall belong to the free.

Since this century's beginning a time of tempest has seemed to come upon the continents of the earth. Masses of Asia have wakened to strike off shackles of the past. Great nations of Europe have waged their bloodiest wars. Thrones have toppled and their vast empires have disappeared. New nations have been born.

Seek's God's Guidance For our own country, it has been a time of recurring trial. We have grown in power and in responsibility. We have passed through the anxieties of depression and of war to a summit unmatched in man's history. Seeking to secure peace in the world, we have had to fight through the forests of the Argonne to the shores of Iwo Jima and to the mountain peaks of Korea.

In the swift rush of great events, we find ourselves groping to know the full sense and meaning of the times in which we live. In our quest of understanding, we beseech God's guidance. We summon all our knowledge of the past and we scan all signs of the future. We bring all our wit and will to meet the question: How far have we come in man's long pilgrimage from darkness toward light? Are we nearing the light—a day of freedom and of peace for all mankind? Or are the shadows of another night closing in upon us?

Great as are the preoccupations absorbing us at home, concerned as we are with matters that deeply affect our livelihood today and our vision of the future, each of these domestic problems is developed by, and often even created by, this question that involves all human kind.

Genius Imperis Life This trial comes at a moment when man's power to achieve good or to inflict evil surpasses the brightest hopes and the sharpest fears of all ages. We can turn rivers

York Springs Man Is Given Jail Term

Maurice Ellicker, York Springs, who was charged with drunken driving, was sentenced Monday in Cumberland County Court, Carlisle, to 15 days in jail and fined $50.

Ellicker, who also entered a plea of guilty to turning off his lights to avoid identification, was given a suspended sentence on this charge and was directed to pay $25 for the use of the county.

Lawrence E. Dick, Dillsburg, charged with larceny of $85 worth of food from a frozen food locker, was sentenced to two to four months in jail and was directed to make restitution.

Set Up TV Set In Court House Today

Television attracted a great number of viewers in this section over the past several hours.

At the Court House officials and clerks rented a set for the day and had it placed in the hallway. About 25 chairs were filled constantly by the officials and their families. Cost of the rental was divided between the viewers.

One prospective viewer however missed at least the inauguration ceremony. At 11:05 a.m. three workmen were atop a building in the first block of Baltimore St. working at top speed to get an aerial in operation in time for the inauguration but missed by a few minutes.

GETS TWO DAYS C. L. Smith, Haymore, Va., arrested Sunday by borough police on a disorderly conduct charge, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight David Eisenhower became the 34th President of the United States today. Right hand upraised, the 62-year-old citizen soldier took on the power and responsibility of the world's most trying office with the simple, 37-word oath administered to all Presidents—to "faithfully execute the office . . . preserve, protect and defend the Constitution."

In his immediate audience at the Capitol ceremony were the members of Congress, top officials of the old and new administrations, foreign diplomats and thousands of invited guests.

Vinson Administers Oath Millions of others in the United States saw and heard the ceremony by television. Radio picked up his voice and carried it across the seas.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson administered the oath. Richard M. Nixon was sworn in as vice president just before Eisenhower assumed his office. Sen. William Knowland of California administered the oath to him.

Eisenhower rested his left hand on two Bibles—one his own from West Point days, the other a testament used in George Washington's first inauguration—as he repeated the oath.

Opens Address With Prayer

President Eisenhower had an unscheduled beginning for his inaugural address today.

Speaking of the crowd as "My Friends," he asked "the privilege of uttering a private prayer," and began: "Almighty God, as we stand here at this moment, my future associates of the executive branch join me in beseeching that Thou wilt make full and complete our dedication to serve the people in this throng and their fellow citizens everywhere."

"Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong." He asked for the power, too, to serve all citizens equitably, regardless of their race, creed, color or differing political faiths.

The address followed soon after the taking of the oath of office. After the oath, the President walked a few quick steps and gave his wife, Mamie, a kiss on the cheek. He shook hands, too, with Vinson, Truman and Nixon.

The annual report of the Soil Conservation service listing its activities during the past year will be presented by Secretary Jester. John Peters will preside at the meeting.

A. W. Butterfield, Gettysburg R. 4, will speak on "What Soil Conservation Has Done For Me." He will describe the results of soil conservation practices on his farm near Gettysburg in restoring fertility to worn-out soil.

A motion picture "For Years To Come," in technicolor, will be shown. The film describes various conservation practices on the farm of Chris Musser, near York. Mr. and Mrs. Musser, on whose farm the film was taken, will be present for Friday's meeting to answer questions on the soil conservation practices carried out by them.

Robert C. Lott and John Peters will be in charge of refreshments. Everyone interested in the soil is invited to attend, Jester said.

guests, including foreign diplomats and others, crowded the wooden benches built over the steps on the looked down at a vast and colorful east front of the Capitol.

Wives There First
Those on the Presidents platform crowd enlivened by the red, purple and blue coats and hats of thousands of women guests as well as by the bunting which decorated the sides of many of the platforms. The crowd was hundreds of rows deep.

Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Truman arrived well ahead of their famous husbands and took places on the right hand side of the speaker's stand. Maj. John Eisenhower was close beside them.

One of those who arrived on the platform shortly before noon, was Gen. George C. Marshall, Eisenhower's World War II boss and secretary of state and secretary of defense in the Truman administration.

125,000 At Capitol
At noon, when the oath-taking ceremonies were to start, diplomats and other official guests were still marching to their seats from inside the Capitol Rotunda.

Arthur E. Cook, supervising engineer of the Capitol, estimated the 125,000 at noon. More were still coming, he said.

One of those who intently watched the arriving guests was Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zorub, smartly attired in black topcoat, white silk scarf and gray tie. Eisenhower, his face grave, appeared on the platform at 12:15 p. m.

Ike Beside Truman

He was accompanied by Sen. Bridges and Speaker Martin. Cheers rang out as the President-elect stepped smartly forward. The band played "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Eisenhower took a position next to Truman, after shaking hands with former President Hoover.

He was seated in the middle one of three leather upholstered chairs with Nixon on his left and Truman on his right.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle pronounced the invocation.

Dorothy Maynor, Negro soprano, sang "The Star Spangled Banner" as the huge throng stood silent in the afternoon sunlight.

Nixon stepped to the front of the stand and took his oath of office at 12:23 p. m. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), his hand upraised, read the oath. Nixon, his hand also upraised, repeated the oath in a loud firm voice.

Eisenhower and Truman successively shook hands with the new vice president.

Nixon Takes Oath
As they resumed their seats, Eugene Conley stepped forward and sang "America the Beautiful".

There had been some speculation Nixon would use the word "affirm" rather than "swear," since many Quakers balk at taking of oaths and he is a Quaker.

Nixon began his oath, however, with the customary "I, Richard M. Nixon, do solemnly swear" and ended with the traditional "so help me God."

Rabbi Gives Prayer

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver delivered a prayer after Conley's solo. Eisenhower stood immediately behind the rabbi. The hazy January sunlight fell across the right side and top of his head. His hands were clasped behind his back. On his right President Truman stood with head bowed.

On Eisenhower's left, Nixon stood with hands likewise clasped behind him and head bowed.

value of the property taken by the school board at "897,832." Musser said he estimated the value of the 50 acre development at $225,000 before the taking and at $127,168 immediately afterward.

He added, "I based my estimate on a value of $4,500 per acre for the 50 acres. The school board land, which is the best land in the area, I estimated at $5,000 per acre, thus placing a value on that portion at $87,000. In addition we have 1,456.4 feet of frontage facing the school on which I estimated that we would have a loss of $5 a front foot, because it will be less valuable, or a $7,832 loss. In addition I estimated $3,000 as our loss of return from utilities, the amount we would have received in return if we had lots on both sides of Fairview Ave."

Cites Tax Payments

He added that he thought his figure "was a high value, but did not include other losses, such as income tax that will have to be paid as a result of the purchase of the 17 acres by the school board, which otherwise would have been spread out over a period of years, and the loss from shortening the time of our development. We had hoped it would last 20 years, building only a few houses, five or ten or more per year. Taking away 17 acres definitely shortens the time span in which we will have the development."

Asked what he meant by a "high value," Musser said "the amount I figured was as high as I went. It does not represent all of the loss, but I knew it was no use going higher because we won't get $97,000 anyway." Asked about that statement, he added "We won't get it because we asked less than that." Asked if he thought the board of view would not be fair, Musser added, "They may give us the $97,000 but I would be very much surprised."

Musser was asked how much the school board offer of $12,500 would come to in terms of 50-foot lots, his answer was "125 per lot." Asked how long it would take to sell off the area at $125 a lot his answer was "less than a week."

Musser added, "I definitely think the price of lots in Gettysburg will increase during the next 20 years."

Other Witnesses Heard

Dr. Harrison Harbach, Highland Ave., said he had bought a lot in an unimproved section of Fairview Ave., adjoining the Colt Park property for $15 a front foot, "within about two hours after it was offered for sale."

Edward C. Beard, E. Lincoln Ave., said he bought a lot at the corner of Queen St. and Fairview Ave. in the same undeveloped area the school property, for $15 a front foot. LeRoy Winebrenner, he said, had termed the land worth $20 a front foot when he first went to buy it from the late William John. He added that having the school directly across the street from him, "will decrease the value of my property."

Beard said he estimated the value of the Colt Park development area at $138,000 before the taking and at $88,700 immediately afterward. He said he based his figure of $49,300 as the value of the land taken by the school board on "510 a front foot."

David Oyler, who said he had bought land on Johns St. for $10 a front foot, estimated the value of the Colt Park property at $120,000 before the taking and at $80,000 after the school section was removed. Oyler said it cost him $3,000 to fill and drain the section he had bought at $10 a front foot.

Members of the board of view, after deciding to meet this afternoon to begin their deliberation said it would probably take them several weeks to reach their decision.

UNDEFEATED SETON HALL IN FIRST PLACE

NEW YORK (P)—Seton Hall, the nation's only unbeaten major college basketball team, stands as the No. 1 team in the country today—thanks to its latest winning streak.

Basketball fans with long memories will recall that the South Orange, N. J., school leaped into national prominence back in 1941 with a 43-game streak, snapped by Long Island University in the National Invitation Tournament. The latest Seton Hall streak reached 18 with four victories last week.

Forty-six of the 92 sportswriters and broadcasters who voted picked Seton Hall as the top team. This gave the Pirates 775 points, on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

Moved Up Gradually

Seton Hall, moving up gradually from fourth place in the first poll, displaced Kansas State at the top after the Midwesterners had held sway for three weeks. Kansas State had ousted La Salle, which ruled the roost for the first two weeks.

La Salle, incidentally, was the last team to beat Seton Hall. The Explorers edged the Hall, 80-76, in the first round of last year's National Invitation Tournament.

Kansas State La Salle Drop

Kansas State fell to fourth place and La Salle also dropped, sliding to fifth place, as Indiana and Washington moved in behind Seton Hall. Indiana jumped from sixth to second on the strength of its 74-70 double overtime victory over Illinois Saturday night. As might be expected, Illinois also tumbled, going from fourth place to sixth as a result of the defeat.

Kansas, which caused Kansas State's downfall with an 80-66 trouncing, moved into the first 18 at the No. 9 place.

Oklahoma A&M moved up two places to seventh, while North Carolina State held firm in eighth place and Fordham dropped down three to 10th.

the floor covering in the sitting room on the first floor of the ladies' building, and repair the sink in the kitchen there which is cracked and broken.

Other recommendations included: "Remodelling, better ventilation and lighting in the main kitchen at the county home; Another temporary fire escape should be installed at once in the annex building. A temporary fire escape was put up when the permanent fire escape was removed to permit work on the former asylum building, but the present fire escape is insufficient; laundry equipment at the county home appears to be inadequate. Immediate steps should be taken to provide suitable laundry equipment."

The report concluded with the recommendation that the commissioners study other county homes to determine what improvements should be made here.

The jury began its tour of the county properties — jail, county home and court house after handing up four indictments to the county court and finding "not a true bill" in another case.

True Bills Found
True bills were found in two charges of cheating by false pretense brought against Glendon M. Shank Sr., of Philadelphia, and a charge of burglary and larceny brought against Edward Eugene, Frank Glenn and Haskell C. Walden.

The indictment against Aubrey Hinkle, East Berlin, was marked "not a true bill" by the grand jury and Mabel Pittentur, East Berlin R. 2, who had brought the morals charge against Hinkle, was ordered to pay the costs in the case.

Those indicted will appear before the petit jury for trial of their cases starting next Monday morning.

CALMED RIOTERS AWAIT PROBE IN WESTERN PEN

PITTSBURGH (P)—Docile prisoners, their defiance spent in 24 hours of bloodless rioting, sat in their battered Western State Penitentiary cells today awaiting a promised investigation of prison conditions.

More than 1,000 inmates capitulated a short time after an 11-man convict committee met with prison officials and were promised there would be no reprisals.

Four guards held as hostages throughout the destructive rioting were released first, then the prisoners returned to cells where they had smashed windows, ripped out plumbing and burned mattresses and bedding.

Knife Cuts On Guard

John Pilatic, 35, was the first guard to be released. He had a black eye and knife cuts, but was able to walk to the prison hospital.

The other guards, James Poole, 26, Edward Ament, 42, and Joseph Guerra, 26, were released three hours later, unhurt.

Warden J. W. Claudy ordered a meal of sandwiches, beans and coffee served to the subdued inmates, who had not eaten since they seized the guards and went on the rampage Sunday night.

"No Reprisals"

State Welfare secretary William C. Brown told newsmen in the presence of the convict committee: "We stand back of the promise there will be no reprisals. The investigation (of prison conditions) is already under way and we will act on the results."

Brown later announced he will begin an immediate investigation to learn ring leaders of the riot. He added that the assurance given the prisoners that there would be no reprisals does not preclude prosecution of those guilty of causing the trouble.

The riot, first at the 76-year-old prison since 1926, ended without a shot being fired.

OUTBREAK OF FLU

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (P)—An outbreak of influenza has caused the closing of all public and parochial schools here.

Dr. H. E. White, county health officer, said the disease "spread like wildfire over the week-end," affecting young children in particular.

1,500 GERMANS FLEE

BERLIN (P)—Nearly 1,500 East Germans have fled to West Berlin over the weekend, many of them to escape Communist-directed purges, it was announced today.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: Numerous sledding parties passed through town last week, among them being several schools, who were treated to a ride by their teachers.

The College basketball team defeated the Steelton team in College gymnasium Thursday evening by the score of 33 to 18.

On Thursday R. D. Ammer and Bon closed a contract with Hon. Wm. A. Martin for placing a hot water plant in the latter's handsome home on Lincoln street.

About four tons of coal were taken from a car on Round Top siding Wednesday night.

Fifty-three dressed hogs were shipped today by Adams Express to the New York markets.

Our music dealer, George E. Spangler, had a car load of pianos and organs shipped direct from the manufacturers to Littlestown. The instruments have all been sold in that place and vicinity.

A number of dogs in the Third Ward have died as the result of eating poisonous meat.

Samuel Spangler, of the firm of Spangler and Oyler, while riding one of Mr. Alex. Oyler's spirited horses along the York pike, was thrown from the animal and somewhat bruised.

The ladies of the Memorial E. U. B. church will serve a chicken and waffle supper, in the room next door to the Spangler's music store on Friday, the 30th of January, from 5 to 10 p.m., and on Saturday, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; these ladies will also conduct a food sale.

At the Furniture Factory: A number of changes have been taking place at the furniture factory in this place. Emory Starnes has resigned as foreman and his place has been filled by Lemuel Mickle, of Orrtanna. John M. Warner has tendered his resignation as manager and . . . McClean of Philadelphia, a skilled mechanic, has been elected to take his place.

An executive committee has been appointed who will look after the general conduct of the business. The committee is composed of the following: Chas. S. Duncan, John M. Warner and Lewis Mizell.

It is the intention of the company to increase the output of the plant to double that of its present capacity.

Marriages: Dennis - Colestock — Jan. 18th at New Chester, by Rev. H. W. Bender, Charles H. Dennis, of New Chester, to Miss Vertie H. Colestock, of Latimore township.

Blocher-Izer—Jan. 14, at Littlestown, by Rev. E. E. Blint, Guy F. Blocher to Miss Mamie J. Izer, both of Littlestown.

Lobaugh-Smith—Jan. 15, at Idaville, by Rev. Oscar H. Gruver, Jonas E. Lobaugh to Miss Nervie Smith, both of Tyrone township.

Purchased News Stand: W. E. Ziegler, of this place, has purchased from P. Y. Stambaugh, of Hanover, the latter's news stand and newspaper business in that place. Mr. Ziegler took charge of the business on Thursday.

Teacher Surprised: That Miss Lizzie Rummel, teacher of the C. Grammar school, is popular with her pupils is evident from reason that Tuesday evening they tendered her a very enjoyable surprise party at her home on Carlisle street.

Pastor Surprised: On Thursday evening Rev. A. R. Steck, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, was given a pleasant surprise in the way of a donation party. About one hundred and twenty-five of his parishioners filled the parsonage and loaded the table with good things. After an hour of pleasant conversation the pastor made a brief address and all departed leaving their good wishes.

Meeting of Directors' Association: The School Directors of Adams county held their 12th annual session in the Court House, Saturday, January 17, over sixty directors answering to roll call.

Today's Talk

SMALL BEGINNINGS

I like to read biographies. A person has to be somebody, and have done things worth recording, to have his life written. And if a person writes his own story it has to be so interesting as to attract readers. In all my reading of people's lives I have been most interested in the beginnings of those lives.

I have noted that real people are never ashamed of their humble beginnings. Mostly they take pride in recording them. I have just read a most absorbing story by Carl Sandburg, telling about his early life in the town of his birth, Galesburg, Illinois. I have read where one reviewer has stated that it is a better story than Franklin's Autobiography, but that is a matter of viewpoint.

I am sure no one has ever written a self story more true, frank and realistic. It is called "Always the Young Strangers. No one reading the book who had never heard of Sandburg would suspect that he later became a great poet and one of the greatest of writers about Abraham Lincoln! Sandburg's story is one of small beginnings, and it's genuine Americana!

All lives of any importance have these small beginnings. G. F. Swift, founder of the great packing business of Swift & Company, was once a small-town butcher in New England. Edison was a newsboy and telegrapher. Both Lincoln and Grant were once small country store clerks. The New York Sun's first edition was a small four-sheet tabloid.

All nature is the story of small beginnings, from which we may learn much. For one thing, nature is never in a hurry. All her worthwhile creations take time to mature. Cyrus Curtis started his now famous "Ladies' Home Journal" in the bedroom of his home, with his wife as chief editor! So it goes. All great enterprises had their small beginnings. Never sell them short!

The sand lots of life team with potential big league players. It has always been so — always will be so. Small beginnings warm the imagination, father initiative and nourish early courage.

Respect that street corner peddler. He may rent an office to you some day!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Love That Golf."

SUGGESTS CURB ON DEFERMENTS LARGE DRAFTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says there is need for continued big draft levies and tougher policies on deferment, including those for college students and new fathers.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, the assistant secretary in charge of manpower, in a summary issued Sunday night, said that for the Nation to maintain its armed forces at its current strength of 3,600,000 she thought these things would have to be done:

1. Draft about 52,000 men a month through next June. The latest draft call, for February, is 53,000. She said the 52,000 figure compares with an average of 35,000 for the past 12 months. The calls had been as low as 10,000 during that time.

2. Before any material change is made in student deferments there should be a tightening up on deferments on dependency grounds. Men who have become eligible for such deferments since the Korean War started "should serve first."

3. A college deferment should "not be permitted to become a virtual exemption," she said. "When a man graduates, he should then enter military service even though he may have become a parent in the meantime. Nor should he be further deferred for occupational reasons."

The only woman top executive in the Defense Department said that before the "leaks in our present deferments" for draftees are plugged "we must increase the number of women in uniform" and the number of civilians to work at jobs now done by soldiers.

A campaign to boost recruiting of women for the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines has produced only modest results.

WOULD EDUCATE JP'S OF STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania magistrates Association set out today to raise the educational standards of Pennsylvania's minor judiciary by making the study of criminal and civil law compulsory.

Meeting at a quarterly session on Sunday directors of the association voted to press the 1953 General Assembly for legislation compelling justices of the peace and aldermen to pass a course in legal instruction.

"... Incompetent performances by some aldermen and justices of the peace have given all of us a black eye," said Squire Stacey S. Spencer, Wellsboro, president of the association.

"Lack of legal learning among many members of the minor judiciary has left us open to attack by the Pennsylvania Bar Association," he continued.

Raymond Pearlstone of Norris-town, solicitor of the association, said that 72-hour courses in law, conducted by lawyers, district attorneys and squires of long experience, are available to JP's and aldermen but that many officials do not take advantage of them.

A suit charging the railroads and Carl Byoir Associates, a New York public relations firm, with a campaign of "vilification and slander" was filed in U. S. District Court here Saturday by Atty. Robert McCray Green, representing the trucking association and 37 firms.

Charge Violations

The suit was filed under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, Green said, and it charges violation of the civil and criminal provisions of the anti-trust act.

It also alleges the railroads hired the Byoir firm in 1949 for the express purpose of putting a conspiracy into effect.

Earl T. Moore, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Central Railroad Co. of Pennsylvania was among the individuals named in the suit.

David I. Mackie, chairman of the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference, said in a statement: "We shall be ready to meet these plaintiffs (truckers) in court on the fair trial allegations they have made. I have had no opportunity to see the papers in this case, but from what I have heard, these charges are so fantastically absurd that they smack more of Alice in Wonderland than a serious legal action."

Girl Is Rescued From 10-Foot Hole

GILBERTON, Pa. (AP)—The frightful experience of being trapped in a 10-foot-deep hole the size of her body still haunted five-year-old Laura Mae Heiser today as she rested in a hospital.

Little Laura Mae fell into 11-inch-wide cone-shaped hole Saturday while playing with friends on the anthracite property of the Gilberton Coal Co. Her tiny body was wedged tightly, and her arms were pinned above her head.

For 90 minutes, as rescuers struggled to free her, Laura Mae screamed hysterically. Finally, rescues, using two steel bars and a rope, pulled the tot to the surface.

The rescue efforts attracted nearly all of the 2,000 residents of Gilberton, some 60 miles northeast of Harrisburg.

Laura Mae was taken to nearby Ashland Hospital, suffering from shock and numerous cuts and bruises. Her condition is good.

Inaugural Address

In their courses, level mountains to the plains. Ocean and land and sky are avenues for our colossal commerce. Disease diminishes and life lengthens.

Yet the promise of this is imperilled by the very genius that has made it possible. Nations amass wealth. Labor sweats to create—and turns out devices to level not only mountains but also cities. Science seems ready to confer upon us, as its final gift, the power to erase human life from the earth.

At such a time in history, we who are free must proclaim anew our faith.

This faith is the abiding creed of our fathers. It is our faith in the deathless dignity of man, governed by eternal moral and natural laws.

Virtues Most Cherished
This faith defines our full view of life. It establishes, beyond debate, those gifts of the Creator that are man's inalienable rights, and that make all men equal in His sight!

In the light of this equality, we know that the virtues most cherished by free people—love of truth, pride of work, devotion to country—all are treasures equally precious in the lives of the most humble and of the most exalted. The men who mine coal and fire furnaces and balance ledgers and turn lathes and pick cotton and heal the sick and plant corn—all serve as proudly, and as profitably, for America as the statesmen who draft treaties or the legislators who enact laws.

This faith rules our whole way of life. It decrees that we, the people, elect leaders not to rule but to serve. It asserts that we have the right to choice of our own work and to the reward of our own toil. It inspires the initiative that makes our productivity the wonder of the world. And it warns that any man who seeks to deny equality in all his brothers betrays the spirit of the free and invites the mockery of the tyrant.

Force Is Enemies' God

It is because we, all of us, hold to these principles that the political changes accomplished this day do not imply turbulence, upheaval or disorder. Rather this change expresses a purpose of strengthening our dedication and devotion to the precepts of our founding documents, a conscious renewal of faith in our country and in the watchfulness of a Divine Providence.

The enemies of this faith know no god but force, no devotion but its use. They tutor men in treason. They feed upon the hunger of others. Whatever defies them, they torture, especially the truth.

Here, then, is joined no pallid argument between slightly differing philosophies. This conflict strikes directly at the faith of our fathers and the lives of our sons. No principle or treasure that we hold, from the spiritual knowledge of our free schools and churches to the creative magic of free labor and capital, nothing lies safely beyond the reach of the struggle.

Strength In Unity
Freedom is pitted against slavery; light against dark.

The faith we hold belongs not to us alone but to the free of all the world. This common bond binds the grower of rice in Burma and the planter of wheat in Iowa, the shepherd in Southern Italy and the mountaineer in the Andes. It confers a common dignity upon the French soldier who dies in Indo-China, the British soldier killed in Malaya, the American life given in Korea.

We know, beyond this, that we MORE . . . MORE . . . MORE are linked to all free peoples not merely by a noble idea but by a simple need. No free people can for long cling to any privilege or enjoy any safety in economic solitude. For all our own material might, even we need markets in the world for the surplus of our farms and of our factories. Equally, we need for these same farms and factories vital materials and products of distant lands. This basic law of interdependence, so manifest in the commerce of peace, applies with thousand-fold intensity in the event of war.

Assures Friends
So are we persuaded by necessity and by belief that the strength of all free peoples lies in unity, their danger in discord.

To produce this unity to meet the challenge of our time, destiny has laid upon our country the responsibility of the free world's leadership. So it is proper that we assume our friends once again that, in the discharge of this responsibility, we Americans know and observe the difference between world leadership and imperialism; between firmness and truculence; between a thoughtfully calculated goal and spasmodic reaction to the stimulus of emergencies.

We wish our friends the world over to know this above all: we face the threat—not with dread confusion—but with confidence and conviction.

We feel this moral strength because we know that we are not helpless prisoners of history. We are free men. We shall remain free, never to be proven guilty of the one capital offense against freedom, a lack of staunch faith.

In pleading our just cause before the bar of history and in pressing our labor for world peace, we shall be guided by certain fixed principles.

Seek Peace for All
These principles are:
(1) Abhorring war as a chosen way to balk the purposes of those who threaten us, we hold it to be the first task of statesmanship to develop the strength that will deter the forces of aggression and promote the conditions of peace. For, as it must be the supreme purpose of all free men, so it must be the dedication of their leaders, to save humanity from preying upon itself.

In the light of this principle, we stand ready to engage with any and all others in joint effort to remove the causes of mutual fear and distrust among nations, and so to make possible drastic reduction of armaments. The sole requisites for undertaking such effort are that—in their purpose—they be aimed logically and honestly toward secure peace for all; and that—in their result—they provide methods by which every participating nation will prove good faith in carrying out its pledge.

(2) Realizing that common sense and common decency alike dictate the futility of appeasement, we shall never try to placate an aggressor by the false and wicken bargain of trading honor for security. For in the final choice a soldier's pack is not so heavy a burden as a prisoner's chains.

Country Above Comfort
(3) Knowing that only a United States that is strong and immensely productive can help defend freedom in our world, we view our nation's strength and security as a trust upon which rests the hope of free men everywhere. It is the firm duty of each of our free citizens and of every free citizen everywhere to place the cause of his country before the comfort of himself.

(4) Honoring the identity and heritage of each nation of the world, we shall never use our strength to try to impress upon another people our own cherished political and economic institutions.

(5) Assessing realistically the needs and capacities of proven friends of freedom, we shall strive to help them to achieve their own security and well-being. Likewise, we shall count upon them to assume, within the limits of their resources, their full and just burden in the common defense of freedom.

Economic Health Important
(6) Recognizing economic health as an indispensable basis of military strength and the free world's peace, we shall strive to foster everywhere, and to practice ourselves, policies that encourage productivity and profitable trade. For the improvement of any single people in the world means danger to the well-being of all other peoples.

(7) Appreciating that economic need, military security and political wisdom combine to suggest regional groupings of free peoples, we hope, within the framework of the United Nations, to help strength such special bonds the world over. The nature of these ties must vary with the different problems of different areas.

In the Western Hemisphere, we join with all our neighbors in the work of perfecting a community of fraternal trust and common purpose. Never Compromise, Tire, Nor Cease
In Europe, we ask that enlightened and inspired leaders of the Western Nations strive with renewed vigor to make the unity of their peoples a reality. Only as free Europe unitedly marshals its strength can it effectively safeguard, even with our help, its spiritual and cultural treasures.

(8) Conceiving the defense of freedom, like freedom itself, to be one and indivisible, we hold all continents and peoples in equal regard and honor. We reject any insinuation that one race or another, one people or another, is in any sense inferior or expendable.

(9) Respecting the United Nations as the living sign of all people's hope for peace, we shall strive to make it not merely an eloquent symbol but an effective force. And in our quest of honorable peace, we shall neither compromise, nor tire, nor ever cease.

By these rules of conduct, we hope to be known to all peoples.

By their observance, an earth of peace may become not a vision but a fact.

Ready To Dare All
This hope—the supreme aspiration—must rule the way we live.

We must be ready to dare all for our country. For history does not long entrust the care of freedom to the weak or the timid. We must acquire proficiency in defense and display stamina in purpose.

We must be willing, individually and as a nation, to accept whatever sacrifices may be required of us. A people that values its privileges above its principles soon loses both.

These basic precepts are not lofty abstractions, far removed from matters of daily living. They are laws of spiritual strength that generate and define our material strength. Patriotism means equipped forces and a prepared citizenry. Moral stamina means more energy and more productivity, on the farm and in the factory. Love of liberty means the guarding of every resource that makes freedom possible—from the sanctity of our families and the wealth of our soil to the genius of our scientists.

So each citizen plays an indispensable role. The productivity of our heads, our hands and our hearts is the source of all the strength we can command, for both the enrichment of our lives and the winning of peace.

The Hope That Beckons
No person, no home, no community can be beyond the reach of this call. We are summoned to act in wisdom and in conscience; to work with industry, to teach with persuasion, to preach with conviction, to weigh our every deed with care and with compassion. For this truth must be clear before us: Whatever America hopes to bring to pass in the world must first come to pass in the heart of America.

More than an escape from death, it is a way of life.

More than a haven for the weary, it is a hope for the brave.

This is the hope that beckons us onward in this century of trial. This is the work that awaits us all, to be done with bravery, with charity—and with prayer to almighty God.

SEE WILSON'S CONFIRMATION CHANCE FADING

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances that the Senate will okay Charles E. Wilson as defense secretary in the new Eisenhower administration appeared to be shrinking—unless he gives up his huge General Motors holdings.

A Republican senator who asked not to be named told this reporter an informal survey indicated that at least one-fourth of the 48 Senate Republicans and nearly all of the 47 Democrats are now inclined to vote against confirmation.

Eight other Eisenhower Cabinet appointees and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, chosen for federal security administrator, seemed likely to go into office today with the new President.

Meet Again Today
The Senate planned to meet shortly after the inauguration to approve other Cabinet choices. That was the only Capitol Hill business scheduled today.

Even if the names of Wilson and four prospective Defense Department aides are formally submitted by Eisenhower, they will be referred to the Senate Armed Services Committee for a hearing tomorrow.

At that hearing Wilson will get a chance, if he wishes, to alter his previous testimony that he would not dispose of 2½ million dollars in stock, a yearly pension and a retirement bonus from General Motors. He also could change his previous declaration that he would not disqualify himself from dealing with the motor firm when questions involving it come before the secretary of defense. Wilson was G. M. president.

Arriving here last night to take part in the inaugural ceremonies, Wilson declined to comment on speculation about whether he might ask that his name be withdrawn. "I'm on the spot, boys," he told newsmen.

TO SENTENCE PUBLISHER
LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—U. S. District Judge Frederick V. Pollmer today awaited a report of a medical examination of Patrick J. McCall before calling the Lansford publisher and contractor for sentence.

The government charged McCall and his two firms, McCall, Inc., and O'Leary Construction Co., Inc., with evading $84,889 in income taxes in 1944 and 1945. He pleaded no contest to the charges.

Unicorns were once supposed to have the head and body of a horse, the hind legs of an antelope and the tail of a lion.

Turning Point In Fight Against Reds Can Come In Ike's Turn At Helm

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower in later years may look back upon his life up till noon today as almost carefree when compared with what lies ahead.

His whole life had been a preparation for military eminence. He attained it. If he had retired from public life when he retired from military life his place in history would be unquestioned.

It would have been military history, of course. Any fault found with him in that field, such as in tactics or strategy, would have been only a minor footnote in the fat volume of his achievements.

Earnest, Smiling Man
His was military success on the grand scale. But the affection he won from a grateful nation was for more than just his victories in battle.

In his appearance he represented the military side of democracy at its best: He was a warm, earnest, smiling man. On the most solemn occasions he seemed as friendly and familiar as the man next door.

But by the very nature of his military life; and of the position of a military man in a republic, there was always someone above him to give final approval, or the final order, for a decision he made.

No. 1 Man Now
When he was a lieutenant, it was the captain; when he was a general or chief of staff, it was the President. Someone until now always stood between him and the final critical judgment of history on whatever he did.

That is no longer true. After noon today, as new head of the government, he became responsible for leadership in problems greater than any he ever knew as head of armies, great as they were.

With the presidency he assumes leadership for roughly half the people on earth because this country has undertaken leadership for that part of mankind which lies outside communism.

President Truman laid the groundwork for that leadership. But it was only a beginning. It will be up to Eisenhower to use what has already been done and improve upon it.

These next four years may be the turning point, one way or the other, in the struggle with communism. So the future of mankind may depend upon his ability, his vision and his decisions.

He didn't have to take the presidency. He could have stopped where he was, knowing history would always deal with him most kindly. He cannot now be sure of that in his new assignment.

If he succeeds, he will have an even more honored place in history. If he fails —. Only time could measure the degree and the consequences of his failure.

It speaks well for his confidence in himself, and the confidence of his countrymen in him, that here, almost at the beginning of his old age, he is willing to undertake what is, in effect, a new life.

775 PRISONERS STAGE RIOT AT ROCKVIEW PEN; GUARDS SEIZED

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Some 775 convicts at the Rockview branch of the Western State Penitentiary seized five guards as hostages last night in a riot which followed by minutes settlement of a turbulent 24-hour outbreak in the main unit at Pittsburgh.

The convicts at this Central Pennsylvania prison took control of the three main cell blocks, barricading the entrances with chairs, mattresses and other paraphernalia. Two hundred and twenty prisoners in one of the blocks who refused to join the rioting at the start, set fire to a mattress and threatened to take three volunteer guards as hostages. But after consultation with prison officials, the guards were released unharmed and the prisoners agreed to remain quietly in their cells.

Had Advance Tip
"This thing has been brewing for some time," Deputy Warden H. R. Johnston told a reporter early today as he awaited the arrival of state officials from Pittsburgh.

"We had a tip the riot was set to happen at breakfast yesterday," Johnston disclosed. "Then we had a tip it would happen about 6:30 p.m., EST. We believed the tip and kept a number of day shift guards on for the supper count."

During the recreation period, about 5:45 p.m., six guards were nabbed and their revolvers were taken by the convicts. One of the guards, Rankin Tait, pleaded to Mrs. Gertrude Beshore, and Norman the prisoners that he was sick and they released him. No statement was issued explaining the circumstances surrounding seizure of the guards.

Prisoners in two of the cell blocks then barricaded themselves and in one block mattresses were set afire. The blaze was put out by the Bellefonte fire department.

Prisoners in the main block control the prison commissary and Johnston said last night they have enough food there to "last some time." The other prisoners have no access to this food.

Meanwhile, calm was restored in Pittsburgh, 160 miles away, where more than 1,000 prisoners returned to official discipline after the settlement.

In contrast to a night and day of shouting defiance and demands for prison reforms, the Pittsburgh prisoners became meek and humble.

They agreed to terms laid down in the state's truce offers just as law officials massed for an all-out assault. The agreement called for the prisoners to release their hostages without harm and submit themselves to regular prison rules and discipline in return for a full investigation of their complaints and a promise of no reprisals for the riot.

IKE STARTED INAUGURAL DAY AT 7:30; FAMILY GOES TO SERVICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower started this historic day of his inauguration as President by rising early and having a light breakfast of grapefruit and coffee.

Up at 7:30 a. m., Eisenhower read the morning papers and then sat down to breakfast about 8:30.

Then he sat around in a dressing robe, while Mrs. Eisenhower breakfasted on toast and coffee.

Went To Church

A short time later, the Eisenhowers began dressing for the first of the day's ceremonies—pre-inaugural services for the general and his official family at the National Presbyterian Church.

The Eisenhowers retired about midnight last night after spending the evening visiting with members of the family, press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters. Previously it had been reported the general was in bed before 10 p. m.

Sober-faced Couple

The Eisenhowers left the Hotel Statler at 9:19 a. m. for the special pre-inaugural services. Both the general and his wife appeared serious as they emerged, sober-faced, from the elevator that took them down from their 12th floor suite.

Only about 20 persons were standing along their roped off path along the hotel mezzanine. There was a brief stir as Mamie slipped slightly. The general held out his arm for Mamie to brace herself and asked: "Are you all right?"

"I'm fine," she said.

The hotel lobby was jammed and the crowd gave Ike and his lady a roar of applause and cheers as they came in view.

More Cheers

The general and Mamie stopped, turned to the crowd, waved and flashed their broadest grins.

There were more cheers for the Eisenhowers as they got into a long grey car for the ride to church. These came from windows in a building across from the hotel. Again, Eisenhower stopped and waved. He held up both hands in his now famous salute.

He posed bareheaded for photographers and then headed for the church.

Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing a white off-the-face hat, a pink jacket and a black silk suit. She was carrying a black suede bag.

Crowds Arrive Early

Eisenhower was dressed in a dull grey hat, a dark blue suit and dark blue overcoat, white shirt and dark blue tie.

Crowds began gathering early along Pennsylvania Avenue for the inaugural parade.

By 9 a. m., 4½ hours before the start—it was a real problem to find parking space for a folding chair on the lower avenue. A few spectators who lacked chairs or a place to put them squatted on the chilly sidewalk.

Point New Way To Economy In Penna.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Chesterman Committee estimated today that a half-million dollars could be saved each two years in rentals for state offices.

"The proper use of office space in existing state-owned office buildings in Harrisburg should permit the vacating of a considerable amount of rented area," the committee said.

The report was one of a number prepared by a committee studying operations of the state government. It is headed by Francis J. Chester-

Forest Ranger Is Fined; Killed Deer

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Earl Lawrence Casher, 43, of Phillipsburg, R. D., a state forest ranger in the Black Moshannon area of Centre County, was fined $100 and costs for killing deer out of season.

Casher admitted violating the state game code at a hearing here last week before Squire A. Thomas Mosier. He was arrested by Robert H. Spahar, Phillipsburg, a game protector, who testified he found evidence of a deer kill in the Black Moshannon Forest.

NEW FACTS ON MINE SEEPAGE

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three scientists say they have learned what causes billions of gallons of acid which seep from soft coal mines into rivers every year.

They also think they may have found a way of preventing this costly pollution, which has puzzled investigators for decades.

The three are Dr. Charles D. Renn, Dr. Walter A. Patrick and Floyd W. McCollum, all of the Johns Hopkins University.

They said the chief villain in the problem is pyrite, known commonly as "fool's gold" and chemically as iron disulfide.

Forms An Acid

United with air and water in a laboratory, it remains pretty much the same.

But combine it with air and water in a soft coal mine and you get sulphuric acid which corrodes water systems, power plant equipment and bridges. It drives fish downstream and makes water useless to industry or expensive to treat.

The Johns Hopkins team found that a common chemical in coal mines makes possible the formation of sulphuric acid with pyrite, air and water.

The said they also found that this chemical union can be prevented—at least, in the laboratory—by treating the pyrite with still another chemical.

Gettysburg, he said, with four teams, to be sponsored by the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Moose and Glenn L. Bream Garage. Age limits will be seven to nine years and each team must play 18 games during the summer.

Little League Plans

A meeting of the sponsors, coaches and others will be held Thursday night, he said, and another meeting is scheduled February 3, when Carl E. Stotz, Williamsport, commissioner of Little League Baseball is expected to come here and explain the operation of the plan on a national scale.

Under the local setup, Mr. Kerr explained, each sponsor will provide $250, which will include the cost of uniforms, equipment and insurance. This initial expense is for the first year only, he said. The league will be self-operating in following years under the plan.

Mr. Kerr said there would be no expense to the Recreation Association. Games will be played on the softball diamond evenings preceding softball games, Mr. Kerr said.

Building Completed

Donald W. McSherry, chairman of the building committee, reported that the new storage building at the Recreation Park is completed. Equipment will be moved to it from the old building, and grading will be done around it. Plans were also discussed for other grading at the Recreation Park in early spring. Repairs have been made to the rest rooms.

The Gettysburg Fire Department was granted use of the Recreation Park for the festival held in connection with the observance of the 90th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, scheduled June 28, 29 and 30, and July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The directors voted to assist in swimming classes for high school girls to be held in the pool at Gettysburg College on Saturday mornings. Directors present at Monday night's meeting were Mr. Knox, Mr. Hartzell, secretary, Mr. McSherry, Michael Tate, George D. March, treasurer, E. Donald Scott, Mr. Myers, Guile W. Leffever and Mr. Dear-man, Philadelphia executive.

The report noted a concentration of leased state offices in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and said quarters for one department or another are rented in every county of the state.

Arabs Ask Ike To Right Injustices

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—An appeal to President-elect Eisenhower to undo the "injustices" done to Palestine Arabs by recent American policy has been sent by 15 American and Arab members of the faculty of the American University of Beirut.

The cable congratulated Eisenhower on his victory and declared that the group "wish to express our confidence that you will redress the grave injustices done to the Arabs in Palestine and restore to American policy its traditional insistence upon justice and freedom of all peoples."

Lawmakers Fear Their Own Wrath

LIONS GIVE $550

Introduced by C. Ross Shuman, Mr. Hardestie said:

"During the last few years we have seen in this country the greatest and most rapid expansion of the size and power of our government that has ever been recorded. Today our federal government is the biggest spender, the biggest employer, and the biggest debtor in the world. It arbitrates strikes, sets tariffs, operates railroads, builds dams, owns huge chunks of real estate, and is actively engaged in over 100 lines of businesses.

"Statements made by our forefathers have been put on shelves for months and rust to corrupt. It was Thomas Jefferson who said, 'I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. . . . If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretext of caring for them.'

"This change in our government has taken place during a period when a national poll tells us that only two persons in 10 were discussing public issues and only one in 10 was writing once a year to a public official. In 1948 we voted 52 per cent and by 1950 this had dropped to a low of 42 per cent. It was Henry Ward Beecher who remarked that there would be no liberty among people who knew not how to govern themselves.

"We shall never find good government in wonderful speeches, nor in noble resolutions, nor in our halls of Congress. Good government will be found in an active, informed and steadfast people, who find out the issues and the facts. A man's most important freedom is his freedom to slam his own door shut—from the outside, and then open his mouth."

Ninety-four Lions and guests attended the meeting with President John S. Rice presiding. A meeting of the board of directors followed the club session.

TURNPIKE CRASH

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Collision of a Greyhound bus and a tractor trailer truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike last night injured 15 passengers—one critically.

Six of the injured are in Somerset Community Hospital. The rest were treated and released. Most serious hurt was Mrs. Gergette Brown, 42, of Washington.

Ten Miles Of Floats In Today's Whopper Parade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democracy marches today in a whopper of a parade.

And riding proudly at its head, performing his first chore as the new President, is Dwight D. Eisenhower.

For three hours or more, 10 miles of floats, bands, military units, beasts and birds arranged to parade down historic Pennsylvania Avenue from the U. S. Capitol past the White House.

A Bit Of Everything

Like democracy itself, this parade has a bit of everything: A dog sled team from Alaska, 20,000 to 22,000 servicemen and women, 65 musical units, 50 floats, 5,600 civilians including 250 Indians, 3 elephants, 350 horses and a flock of pigeons making as if they were doves of peace.

The effect? A mixture too. Partly patriotic, partly military, partly comic, partly political, partly home state pride, partly religious.

First Float Religious

It was no accident that the float assigned first place was built to stress the religion in democracy.

"I felt we needed something like this," Parade Chairman Edward Carr told reporters, "because I felt Gen. Eisenhower had a deep and abiding faith in God."

Appropriately, the float was paid for, anonymously, by 12 people representing all faiths. And its central edifice was designed with the idea that anyone who saw it, no matter what his faith, would be reminded of his own church.

Other Parade Highlights

Other highlights of the parade, beginning at the front and working back:

First car — The Inaugural Committee, with Joseph McGarraghy, its chairman, and Carr, the parade chairman.

Then the grand marshals of the parade, Adm. Alan G. Kirk, Gen. Carl Spaatz, Lt. Gen. L. T. Gerow, each in his own car, riding three abreast.

Music, for the first time, provided by the U. S. Army Band.

Then Ike And Mamie

The President's section—A military escort, the 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry, followed by the national, presidential, and vice presidential colors and color guards.

The chief of the Secret Service, flanked by a couple of motorcycles. And then, the focal point of the whole thing: Eisenhower, Mrs. Eisenhower and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the congressional committee for the inauguration, in a Cadillac convertible.

Herbert Hoover Then

Behind him: Vice President Nixon, Mrs. Nixon, Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) and the speaker of the House, Rep. Martin (R-Mass.). Both Welker and Martin are members of the Joint Congressional Inaugural Committee.

After press cars and more Inaugural Committee bigwigs: a reminder of the last Republican triumph, Herbert Hoover, no longer the only living ex-President of the U. S.

Behind Hoover, Chief Justice Vinson, and behind Vinson, the members of Eisenhower's official family, including all the new Cabinet officers.

It has been estimated that only about 7 per cent of human physical variations can be assigned to causes other than inheritance.

Ladies and gentlemen, here is Oldsmobile's candidate for the best-looking, best-driving car of all for 1953. It's the glamorous new Ninety-Eight—the last word in "Rocket" engineering and Classic styling. That distinctive, long rear deck is balanced by a new, longer "power" hood. The front-end is new, more dramatic. The chrome trim is new, more distinctive. The whole silhouette is new, more exciting. The interiors have been enhanced and "entranced" by new upholstery and Custom-Lounge Cushions*. Even the "Rocket" Engine is NEW—with higher power (165 hp.), higher compression (8 to 1), higher voltage (12-volt ignition). And to match this super performance, there's a new Power-Ride Chassis, new Pedal-Ease Power Brakes*, Power Steering*, and even Frigidaire Car Conditioning*. We invite you to inspect the new Classic Ninety-Eight—in our dealership now.
